Design Image:

The Zebra Longwing Butterfly bench is a representation of a Zebra Longwing Butterfly accompanied by a leaf and a Firebush branch. The butterfly with its unique strips cutout of a plate of steel will create a bit of shade for the oversized leaf that creates the bench.

The bench will be large enough to sit at least two adults with adequate sitting conforming to ADA specifications for bench measurements. The bench will be fabricated from curved steel pipe and plate.

The entire art bench will be created using steel, painted with an epoxy primer covered with industrial acrylic paint. There will be three baseplates for attaching to a cement base with anchor points being as obscured as possible to remove any trip hazard and improve overall aesthetics of the piece.
